I believe the visual mockup captured the ideas I had in mind when I envisioned the website. The picture used was good and all the components blend well without being distracting or busy in any way. I believe navigation seems very clear. Overall, I think everything is working well and you seem to have the right idea in the design. If you have any specific questions, feel free to reach out to me at feehanjt@wustl.edu